

SOCIETY

MRS. MOLLIE MACGILL ROSENBERG, of Galveston, Texas, will celebrate her seventieth birthday on January 28th, in her home at Galveston, Texas, by an elegant dinner, at which a large party of Richmond and Baltimore relatives and friends will be present. A family house party of a month, of which Mrs. Rosenberg will be hostess, will follow the birthday gathering.

The Rev. Robert W. Forsyth, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, this city, has been urgently invited by Mrs. Rosenberg to be present. Among others who will go are Mrs. Rosenberg's sisters, Mrs. S. D. Dreyer, of Minnola, Chesterfield county, Mrs. Clifford C. Bridges, of Ashland, and Mrs. C. W. Macgill, of Catonsville, Md., and her brother, General James Macgill, of Forest, Va.

Mrs. Dreyer's granddaughter, Miss Alice Ogden, who has been spending the winter at the home of Mrs. Macgill, the granddaughter of Mrs. G. W. Macgill, will accompany the party as far as New Orleans, where Miss Ogden will remain until after Mardi Gras.

Mrs. Rosenberg is the daughter of a distinguished Confederate surgeon, the late Dr. Charles Macgill, who came to Richmond during the War between the States, and whose portrait, presented by Mrs. Macgill, hangs in the Texas room of the Confederate Museum. This city also is a niece of Archbishop Macgill, of the Catholic Church. Her husband was one of the wealthiest and most public-spirited citizens of Galveston, and did much to beautify his native city.

Will Leave This Week.
Mrs. Claude A. Swanson will leave tomorrow noon for Washington, where she will be the guest of Mrs. Howey. Here and there during the week, full entertainments are being planned in her honor.

Two noonday luncheons will be given for her, one by Mrs. Reid Rogers, and the other by Mrs. Fleming, while Mrs. William Wheatley will entertain at cards later in the week. Mrs. Swanson is most popular in Washington society, and on every visit there is kept in a whirl of social gaieties. Governor Swanson will leave on Tuesday for New York to be the guest at the banquet given by the Confederate veterans on Wednesday night. He will join Mrs. Swanson in Washington, and on Thursday night Judge and Mrs. Howey will give them a dinner.

The Rev. Mr. Hatch, of Washington, formerly of Richmond, will entertain in their honor at a dinner on Friday.

WALL POCKETS LATEST FLORAL DECORATIONS

The latest popular decorations for dances and receptions are the wall pocket effects originated and made popular here and elsewhere by John Ratcliffe, head of the firm of Ratcliffe & Tanner, Incorporated, of 25 West Broad Street.

These pockets are made of wicker, with and filled with Richmond roses, Killarney roses, maidenhead ferns, lilies of the valley, or other pretty flowers, and are decorated with ribbons, gauze or ribbons.

These decorations are especially effective for dances, receptions and dinners, where they are placed high from the floor and not in the way of the guests.

The firm of Ratcliffe & Tanner is now making for the Easter floral display, which will in every way surpass all previous efforts in this line here.

evening, and Congressman Lamar, of Florida, will give a luncheon on the 26th at Rauscher's.

At Woman's Club.

On Monday afternoon at 4:30, Dr. John McElroy, professor of literature at Sweet Briar College, Va., will speak to the members of the Woman's Club on "Hecate, the First Great Hero of the English." Such an attractive speaker on such an interesting subject will be greeted by a large audience.

On Wednesday afternoon, also at 4:30, the class in French history will meet to discuss the "Life of Marie Antoinette," under the direction of Mrs. John C. Robertson.

Box Hosts and Patronesses.

The following will be hosts of box parties to hear Madame Marchesi, who will appear in a song recital at the Academy of Music on February 12th: Governor and Mrs. Swanson, Mrs. W. H. Cox and Mrs. John K. Branch. Parties will be entertained by Mrs. Rockwood, Miss Edith Aylatt Cofer, Miss Mary Willy Smoot and Professor Winter, and a large party from Staunton. Patronesses will include Mrs. Gladys Davenport, Mrs. John S. Harrison, Miss Mary Williams, Mrs. P. M. Fry, Mrs. R. Hughes Lindsey and Mrs. Robert Blankenship.

Special Features of Comedy.

At the presentation of "Bibi: A Comedy of Toys," in the Academy of Music

DR. ANNE FULTON HUMPHREYS.

Dr. Anne Fulton Humphreys, daughter of Prof. Milton W. Humphreys, of the University of Virginia, graduate of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, W. Va., in the class of 1907 of the University of Michigan, and since then interné at the Northwestern Hospital, Minneapolis, Minn., has returned to Virginia, and will reside in future in Norfolk. Dr. Humphreys is a brilliant woman, and devoted to such outdoor sports as lawn tennis, swimming, rowing, hunting and walking. She looks upon a ten or fifteen-mile walk as moderate exercise. Norfolk society has received her most cordially.

on February 19th and 20th, for the benefit of the Home for Needy Confederate Women, society will be interested to know that the soldiers will be represented by a detail of fifty men from the Richmond Howitzers and by Company C of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues.

A brilliant spectacular drill dance by debutantes and ex-debutantes will be led by Miss Ella Buckley and Miss Julie Osterloh, and a fancy song dance by Miss Della Joyner and Mr. Douglas Gordon. These features will lead the performance in beauty, grace and the interest they cannot fail to arouse. A violin solo by one of the most brilliant musicians in the city, Mrs. Frank W. Duke, will be followed by a Spanish drill, in which charming juniors of the smart set of Richmond, led by Miss Cay Montague, will include Miss Nora Randolph, Miss Emma Gray White, Miss Elizabeth Hargrave, Miss Frances Wheat, Miss Edith Dorman, Miss Agnilla Wolford, Miss Kate Eades, Miss Jellie Scott and Miss Mary Chalmers. Six little girls, who will impersonate dainty paper dolls, are Misses Carrie Tallafiero, Dorothy Fox, Grace Gilman, Janeus, Emma Sampson and Nancy Perkins.

A breezy farce will be introduced called "The Mouse Trap," in which Mrs. C. C. Walker and Mr. Paul Christian will have the leading parts. Mrs. Powhatan Breeden will sing a solo, which will be patronized by Misses Maude Harvey, Edna Valentine, Lucy Scott, Mary Booth, Adeline Huffman, Virginia Cooke, Carrie Grigsby, Myrtle Turner, Lillian Munn, Emily Tiller, Grace Martin, Myrtle Gully, Mary Pierce, Mabel Beard, Edith Yarrborough, Virginia Jones and Nanette Graves.

Little Miss Elizabeth Patton's wonderful child-voice will be heard to excellent advantage in the role of "Peep," leading Messrs. John Wiley, Bernard Tucker, Hudson Bailey and Frederick Mayberry, who will fill the role of various animals, and Messrs. Russell Hughes, Russell and Maggie Jones will impersonate jumping jacks.

A patriotic feature of the entertainment will be "Dixie," a pantomime drill executed by twenty young ladies dressed in red and white carrying Confederate flags. They will be led by Miss Marguerite Stoltz, bearing a real war flag.

Members of the cast of "Bibi" will be Mr. George D. Richardson, Miss Mary Whitsett, Miss Edna Bailey, Miss Rebecca Walker, Miss Maggie Bryant, Mr. Herbert Cochran, Mr. Edward Breeden, Mr. W. H. Kelley, Miss Nanette Crawford, Miss Elizabeth Wilson and Mr. Lewis Cutlins.

Will Go South.
Mr. Alvin M. Smith will leave on January 28th to attend a meeting of the Southern Machinery Supply Association in New Orleans. From New Orleans he will go to Texas, and will be away from the city for several weeks.

Mrs. Claiborne's At Home.
Mrs. J. H. Claiborne, of Petersburg, will be the guest of Mrs. W. J. Blunt, No. 1127 Grove Avenue, and will be at home informally on Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 7.

Military Dance.
An attractive military dance will be given by the Athletic Association of the Richmond Grays, Company A, First Virginia Regiment, on Friday evening, February 5th, at the Armory, at Seventh and Marshall Streets. Captain and Mrs. W. C. Herberts, Captain and Mrs. J. H. Stone have been invited to chairmen. The committee of arrangements will include Captain Herberts, Mr. C. A. Raby and Coach Polley.

Tea and Reception.
At the silver tea and reception to be held in the rooms of Woman's Christian Association, Tuesday afternoon, from 5 to 7, and Tuesday evening, from 8 to 10, for the benefit of Brook Avenue mission work, and under the auspices of Monumental Church Child's Study Club, guests will be welcomed by Mrs. William Gemmell, Mrs. C. C. Cabot, Mrs. R. H. Meade, Miss Ada Amund, director of Brook Avenue Kindergarten; Mrs. W. A. Powers,

Mrs. J. H. Tibbets, of Ingleside, Md., to Dr. William Richard Dent, of Hanover, Loudoun county, is announced. Dr. Dent is a surgeon in the United States army. The date for the wedding has not yet been decided on.

Lee Celebrations.

Last Tuesday—Lee-Jackson Day—was celebrated most fittingly by the United Daughters of the Confederacy in their respective chapters throughout the State. The Hope-Maury Chapter, organized at Camp Hall, on Church Street, Norfolk, at a most delightful reception, the hall being most attractively decorated in old Confederate flags and evergreens. Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, president of the chapter, in a most graceful manner received the guests.

Mrs. Harry J. In presided at the punch bowl and the different members of the chapter served.

Mrs. Griff Edwards, of Portsmouth, sang "Dixie," and many old war songs were sung by the Confederate choir. Among those present were the members of Pickett-Buchanan Chapter, the Berkeley Chapter, Portsmouth Chapter, and the members of the Confederate choir. The affair was most informal, and a delightful evening was spent by all present.

The Fredericksburg Chapter held its annual social and business meeting in the home of Miss Nannie G. Willis, whose spacious colonial house was hospitably thrown open to the Daughters and their friends, and draped in Confederate colors and flags. Miss Belle Little read a forceful paper on "Lee at Appomattox," which was followed by many of the old songs, sung by Messrs. Smith and Wooding. Mrs. Charles E. Tackett presided at the piano. Mrs. John B. Proctor sang "Virginia," and several historic poems were read by Miss Sallie M. Lacy, Confederate Veterans.

The H. A. Carrington Camp, Confederate Veterans, entertained the chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at a banquet held in the Confederate room at Charlotte Courthouse on Tuesday night. A portrait of Lee and Jackson as they stood at their last meeting before the battle of Chancellorsville was presented to the chapter by the camp.

Professor D. W. Head made a feeling speech of presentation, which was replied to by Rev. Mr. McNair. A patriotic musical program was rendered by Miss Maud Porter on the cornet, accompanied by Miss Fannie Thornton on the piano.

Three Things to Think of in Buying a Piano.

Three considerations influence the careful purchaser in his selection of a piano—

1. Its Musical Quality.
2. Its Durability.
3. Its Beauty.

If you have a trained musical ear you will instantly recognize that the Hardman Piano is musically perfect.

If you are not quite certain of your own power to judge tone-quality, then the fact that the Hardman is selected for their personal use by such authorities as the following is absolute proof:

Enrico Caruso, Charles Giliert, Amedeo Bassi, Emma Calve, Rodolfo Ferrari, A. Bonci.

To prove that the Hardman is durable—that its sweet tone lasts—listen to a long used Hardman.

To know that the Hardman is beautiful, come to our store and look at the many styles of Grands and Uprights.

The Hardman Piano improves with use.

Terms arranged to suit you. Come to our store or write for full information.

We are sole agents in Virginia and North Carolina for the Hardman, as well as other leading makes.
